

UNDERSTANDING LOTTERY SCAMS

LOTTERY SCAMS promise large sums of money for up front fees.

Lottery scams are a type of fraud that promises large amounts of money in return for an initial processing fee from the victim.

You never have to pay to collect winnings from a legitimate lottery. You pay taxes after you receive the winnings, not before.

Scammers will try to convince you to act quickly, pay a processing fee or pay taxes to secure your winnings.

Ignore all mail and phone calls promising big winnings in exchange for money or sensitive information.

If you believe you are a victim of a lottery scam, you should contact your bank and Attorney General. Then file a complaint at www.ftc.gov.

STOP. THINK. DON'T BE FOOLED.

Notify your bank immediately if you have given out your information, so they can help protect your account.
